Worshipping

“Is it hot enough for ya!?!” Have you noticed no one says that around here? Back in the Midwest, that was a standard conversation starter this time of year. I never really understood it. How was one supposed to respond when it was 88 degrees and 89% humidity – “No, I would like it better if it was 95 and 200% humidity?” Around here I don’t have to worry about trying to hold back my sarcasm when asked such a ridiculous question. I suppose it’s because we know it’s hot; going to be hot tomorrow, and the next day, and for the next two months after that. Even the most desperate who are looking to strike up a little dialog will not ask if it’s hot enough – no, some subjects are best left alone when you live in the desert.

I do have to admit that August is a rather challenging month for us in the valley, at least weather wise. It has been hot for a while and there really is no sign of relief for a couple more months. We have entered the dog days of summer – now there is another interesting expression. What in the world does that mean? I have looked at any number of dogs in August, and they don’t seem to like it anymore than we humans. If these are their days, they don’t want them!

Well it turns out that the phrase the dog days of summer has nothing to do with our canine friends; well, at least not directly. It has everything to do with a star. Countries that bordered the Mediterranean Sea originally used the dog days of summer in early times. Evidently there is a star that the Romans called the diēs caniculārēs, or the “Dog Star.” It seems that when the Dog Star was the brightest, it coincided with hottest time of year, thus the “Dog days of Summer.”

The Romans also observed that it was during these days that dogs grew mad, and humans became irritable. Hmm... not sure about the dogs today growing mad, but I have noticed at times some irritable people. Some seem a little less patient while driving. I have witnessed more than one individual snap at the person running the register in the grocery store. Neighbors don’t stop and talk, instead they snarl and walk inside.

Perhaps during this particularly hot time of year we would be good to remember these words from the Bible:

“Therefore, as God’s chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. Bear with each other and forgive one another if any of you has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love, which binds them all together in perfect unity.”
(Colossians 3:12-14)

I believe the dog days of summer would be more like a puppy if we all heeded those words.

In Christ,

Missions

Lutheran Women’s Missionary League (LWML)

Mite Box Sunday August 2nd

Please check out the LWML Mite Box table in the narthex. You can empty coins from your Mite Box into the wooden box, or you can place any cash donations and checks into the box for missions. It will be collected after the 11:30 service. Donations are used for various missions that reach out to win souls for Christ. Thank you for your help!

One of the recipients of our Spring Benefit Luncheon this year is Shepherds Canyon Retreat. This retreat is a specialized counseling ministry for wounded professional church workers and spouses (singles are welcome too). As many as 4 couples gather for 8 days of intensive Christian therapy, centered around God’s word and the healing restoration that comes from His grace and mercy.

Statistics: - 20% of pastors are “in crisis” which means they are just coping; just hanging on.
- 80% of pastors say that the ministry has had a negative impact on their families.
- Among Protestant clergy, between 1400 – 1700 pastors quit the ministry every month.

The need for this ministry is real and surprising to many people. Please pray for our pastors and all who are spreading the word of God throughout the world.

There will be no LWML meeting in August.
